"JACK" MASON AND WIFE UNDER ARREST

Extradition Proceedings in London for Baltimore Beau Brummel.

LONDON, April 18.—John Archibald Campbell Mason, of Baltimore, Md., and his wife were arrested in Bow Street Police Court yesterday for extradition on the charge of obtaining money and goods by false pretenses at Florence, Italy. Of the amount involved about $200,000 was obtained on checks, payment of which was refused. Counsel for the defendants said it was a case of misunderstanding. Mr. Mason's family in America having failed to pay in money to his account. The case was adjourned.

"Jack" Mason Once the Envy of Swagger Youths of Baltimore.
BALTIMORE, April 18.—John Archibald Mason, who with his wife is under arrest in London, is well known in the smart set here as "Jack" Mason. He is related to some of the leading families of Baltimore. He spent most of his life in London, where he was considered a business man. He was identified with fashionable club life some money, but never was wealthy. His tastes were mostly in the direction of clothes and horses and he was never considered a business man. As a dresser "Jack" Mason was the envy of other swagger youths in Baltimore. He patronized the most expensive tailors, and his other articles of attire were in keeping with his English tweeds and wools. For Baltimore he changed his clothes as often, comparatively, as did the famous Harry Hall for the decoration of himself and his New York admirers. He was married seven or eight years ago and later brought his bride here to live. They took part in the diversions of the most fashionable society. They have not lived in Baltimore for several years.

Head-and-Hand-Tailored Suits for Men at $20.00, $25.00 and $30.00
Begin with an apology and you are certain to end with a confession. We need offer you neither for our suits at $20.00, $25.00 and $30.00.
Rather would we demonstrate to you that the garments more than justify the prices. How? Measured by your own standards.
What do you demand? If it be a good fabric, we pledge ourselves for it. If it be style, hold us to this:—our series of new models are as varied in form and design as good taste and the edict permit.
To our mind the greatest strength of our suits at $20.00, $25.00 and $30.00 is centred in the tailoring. It is as fine as head-and-hand can produce. What more can you demand? We do not know. If you do, demand it. To the end of our resources we will try to satisfy you and count it a privilege.

GOES TO PRISON TO SPARE RICH WIFE
Choirmaster Companion Keeps Silence, but Woman's Fall Is Exposed.

KENOSHA, Wis., April 18.—Admitting his guilt to save the honor of a woman Edwin Conklin, formerly choirmaster of the First Baptist Church at Woodstock, Ill., has pleaded guilty to a serious charge in the Circuit Court and has been sentenced to a year and a half in State Prison.
The man had been charged with misconduct with Mrs. Clara D. Murphy, the former wife of Perry W. Murphy, a wealthy real estate dealer at Woodstock. The sacrifice of Conklin was wasted, for in an argument to the court the attorneys in the case laid the whole story bare.
Conklin did not speak a word in his own behalf during the entire hearing, though mercilessly arraigned by the attorney for the State.
In the statements to the court, it was shown that the man and woman had both been members of the church at Woodstock, and that Mrs. Murphy, being driven by the church for conduct unbecoming a member. The judgment of the church had been withheld pending the decision of the court here.
Mrs. Murphy is a member of an old State family, prominent in society. When a girl she married John C. Polley, a son of the late Judge John Polley, of Chicago, but was divorced from him and married Murphy.

ACCUSES A UNION OF INTIMIDATION
Application Made in Court for Injunction Against Cloth Exam-iners' Organization.

Frederick Dugan, in behalf of James Nutley & Co., of Nos. 8 and 10 Jones street, applied to Justice O'Gorman, in the Supreme Court today, for an injunction to restrain the Cloth Examiners' and Spongers' Union from intimidating their employees in an effort to make them go on strike.
Mr. Dugan said that his employees are members of the Industrial Workers of the World, and that the other union was sending false and malicious circulars to members of the clothing trade, also saying that Nutley & Co. did not employ union workmen. They wanted the injunction to cover that also.
Former Supreme Court Justice Alfred Stecker, opposing the injunction, declared that if the Examiners' and Spongers' Union had sent out the circulars it had acted entirely within its right. He said that Nutley had organized the so-called "Industrial Workers of the World Union's" New York branch for the purpose of smashing the Examiners' and Spongers' Union, which is regularly affiliated with the American Federation of Labor Union, and that the Nutley organization is no union at all.
Decision was reserved.
